Auckland, N. Z. The view from Mount Eden is of surpassing beauty — the city lies at the foot of the hill (which is an extinct volcano). In the middle of the picture is the "North Shore" with "Flagstaff Hill" and "North Head" which ships round, to enter the inner harbour. To the extreme right is Rangatoto, another extinct volcano. In the far distance is the entrance to the harbour — 25 miles wide and several hours steam from Auckland.
